I'm an alternative Wedding photographer from London and I LOVE city weddings! After years of working in both the music and fashion industry, I transitioned to weddings and elopements in 2014 and haven't looked back. Specialising in alternative, quirky, non-traditional weddings in London, I absolutely love meeting relaxed couples who see wedding as simple putting a ring on it and then partying with friends and families. Whether its in London or further afield, I'm a 'roll with the punches' kind of photographer that loves getting stuck in with your plans for the day and helping any way I can. If you're a chilled out couple looking for a fun and creative photographer then look no further!

Grace & Thorn is a florist based in East London's Hackney with a unique and different aesthetic when it comes to floral design. We champion letting flowers sing, dance and breathe and hate the idea of manipulating natural shapes into tight domes or dimensions. We also love plants as much as we love flowers and spend a lot of time incorporating plants, foliage and blooms together where possible. We offer a whole plethora of services; anything from table arrangements and garlands to hanging floral walls and monstera leaf chandeliers, we are driven to help create the perfect environment for your event, wedding or party.
